Federico Tesion is one of the most successful and revered thoroughbred breeders of the 20th century.

What more can be said of the "Master of Dormello", Federico Tesio; except that there are many people out there who do not realize just who he was, and how important his research is, even today. Tesio was indeed the master breeder, and following his research will make one just that much more wise when it comes to breeding decisions. Most all of the winning racehorses in the world today trace to Tesio's breeding stock, and he never produced more than a dozen foals in any one year. Any of Tesio's three books should not only be read, but read and read again and again, and you will learn more with every reading.

Somewhat complex look at the thoroughbred from a man whose contribution can be seen in all of the current pedigree charts very useful info!

Grazie

very good and inspiring!

ExcellentÂ¡

This is more of a historical document about how Frederico Tesio went down many rabbit warrens before he realised that breeding was much more an art than science.
