Zoologist Jim Kavanagh has made a career out of introducing novices to plants, animals, the sciences and world cultures. In addition to creating over 500 simplified nature guides, he has also authored guides to languages, cities and outdoor skills. An avid traveler and backpacker, Kavanaghâ™s path has taken him around the world to many remote destinations including the upper , Africa, Australia, and the Arctic Circle (and this is just the As). He is also the author of a series of state-specific guides to common species and natural attractions and a children's book on evolution.

This little folder is an absolute backyard gem! We planted specifically to attract butterflies, bees, and hummingbirds this year, and this identification guide is the perfect booklet to have on hand. Yes, you'll also want to have other field guides on hand if you want in-depth information, but for quick identification of a darting, dancing butterfly? It can't be beat! I would recommend it to anyone in a heartbeat!

This very convenient for toting on the nature trail, with a suitable selection of 72 common butterflies and moths, a handful of caterpillars and pupae, and a few facts. It is not a guide, really, just a folded plastic-coated poster that fits in your pocket. It's helpful for amateurs or families who want to quickly identify species. Very sturdy. Not bad; not great. Okay for $6 or so.

Good

Absolutely no use. This item is a folded card with a very few butterflies identified and no information about them.

Great
