The Battle Of Karbala (Forgotten Books)

Synopsis

Book Description: "The Battle of Karbala took place on Muharram 10, 61 AH (October 9 or 10, 680 CE) in Karbala, in present day Iraq. On one side were supporters and relatives of Muhammad's grandson Husayn ibn Ali; on the other side was a military detachment from the forces of Yazid I, the Umayyad caliph. Husayn ibn Ali's group consisted of notable members of Muhammad's close relatives, around 72 men and women, of which some were either very old or very young. Husayn and some members of his group were accompanied by some of the women and children from their families. On the opposite side, the armed forces of Yazid I were led by Umar ibn Sa'ad and contained at least 40,000 men. The battle field was a desert region located beside one of the branches of the Euphrates River. The battle resulted in the military defeat of Husayn ibn Ali's group, the death of almost all of his men, and the captivity of all women and children. The Battle of Karbala is one of the most significant battles in the history of Muslims. This battle also had significant effects on formation of subsequent revolts against the Umayyad dynasty. The battle of Husayn ibn Ali is commemorated during an annual 10-day period held every Muharram, culminating on its tenth day, Ashura." (Quote from wikipedia.org)

Awesome Thanks *****

Came in on time and looks good

Great book

Thank you

The book is fantastic, I haven't read it all but so far so good!

If this is true event, this book should be a requirement for everyone to read. Well written and quite inspirational.

Great book ...

The book was an excellent piece of literature that i've always wanted to know more about. The book is a little hard to read without arabic background, but it brings forward the story in a well balanced and sound tone. My only contradiction is that the book is very thin, and the price was a little over what i would consider fair for such small booklets. Kind regards, Mick
