Barbara Acello has worked in long-term care for more than four decades. Currently a nurse consultant and educator, she owns a school for nursing assistants, where she helped to write and develop mandatory state curricula for nurse aides and EMTs. She has also written and contributed to dozens of textbooks, instructor guides, quick reference guides, and supplemental instructional materials for health care personnel. Formerly a practicing nurse, Ms. Acello was also a director of nursing and a long-term care facility consultant. Her interests and expertise include clinical geriatrics, resident safety, pain assessment and management, restraints, pressure ulcers, and infection control. She is particularly committed to improving working conditions, education, and professionalism for personnel in the long-term care industry.

if you are looking for a book which can prepare for the restorative aide then you should be looking into this book, its short and to the point, it explains what is restorative care and also have a competency checklist which will help the student prepare for the national certification career association ncca certification exam to be a certified restorative aide, my exam in next week will keep posted after my exams to let everyone know how useful this book it

The pictures are very illustrative. The topics were clearly explained. I use it for my Restorative care nurse assistant training.

Outdated.

This is a fabulous resource for anyone who is getting into restorative nursing care. I am an RN and I use this book to provide resources for CNA's who are new to restorative care and actually use it from time to time for my own edification.

bought for my wife . . just what she wanted
