Community Nutrition In Action: An Entrepreneurial Approach, 4th Edition

Synopsis

COMMUNITY NUTRITION IN ACTION, FOURTH EDITION is the perfect text to introduce students to the program planning, policies, resources, and nutrition issues specific to community nutrition, providing an understanding of creating and implementing nutrition programs from various constituencies (elderly populations, children, impoverished populations, college students, etc.). Successful practitioners in community nutrition have proven to have a mind and skill set that opens them up to new ideas and ventures. Incorporating an entrepreneurial approach, this text encourages students to learn how to take risks, try new technologies, and use fresh approaches to improving the public's nutrition and health status. The text also delivers the core material important to those who will be active in solving community nutritional and health problems, including program delivery, nutrition education, nutrition assessment, and planning nutrition interventions. From the "Case Studies" to the "Community Learning Activities," students are provided with both practical advice and applications to support active learning.

I got a great price on this used book and saved TONS of money. I love for used textbooks. I graduated from the Community Nutrition program last semester and loved this course. This is a classic text and tons of info about all the govt programs like USDA, WIC and SNAP which help low income folks have balanced diet. There is so much information in this book I am keeping it as a reference for when I am working as a Community Nutrition professional.

This book is awesome for nutrition majors and anyone interested in nutrition programs offered in their community and how to make a difference. I will be keeping it after my class is complete - mostly because my prof suggests that we do!
